The Lucky Cat

The Lucky Cat or maneki-neko is a popular Japanese character believed to bring good luck to the owner. They come in different colours and styles and a variety of detail.

Maneki-neko are commonly found with either the right or left paw raised.

It is generally believed that a statue with the left paw raised is to attract more customers to a business, while the right paw raised is to get more money!

Sudoku Challenge

To be a Benihana Chef, your mind must be as sharp as a knife. Try your hand at the Japanese math puzzle known as Sudoku.

The object of Sudoku is to fill the empty cells with numbers between 1 and 4 but each number can appear only once on each row, column and a region.
